"THE FLIRT"

She was a heartless flirt; a beautiful girl who toyed with men's hearts and then cast them aside ruthlessly. Self-willed and aristocratic, able by her charm and beauty to attract men with the same ease with which she brushed them from her path when she had conquered them. Her wilful caprice was given full sway when there came a time when one man gave her a dose of her own medicine. Then humbled, crestfallen and made ridiculous in the eyes of her victims, she was given just punishment for her previous heartlessness.

This is just an idea of the great story by Booth M. Tarkington which under the title of "The Flirt" will be read by millions when it is serially in the Saturday Evening Post. There is a boy in "The Flirt" who was used by Mr. Tarkington to tell the "Pearl" series of tales in the Cosmopolitan Magazine, and this boy is chiefly instrumental in bringing punishment to "The Flirt" for her selfishness.

Marie Walcamp, beautiful and talented, plays the title role in "The Flirt." You will remember her artistic work in a previous Bluebird Photoplay, "Hop, the Devil's Brew."

"SONS OF SATAN"

Craft and duplicity eventually come to a bitter end, although the path at the start may be as rosy as that of Henry Normand, leader of a band of notorious thieves while posing as Paul de Villeneuve, a noted French detective. While leading this Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde existence de Villeneuve falls in love with an actress, Winifred West, who is engaged to Lord Deford, son of the Earl of Littleborough.

De Villeneuve plans to get Winifred in his power and intends to use Lady Littleborough, who has written a letter that will involve her in a frame, which the crook gets possession of, to aid him in his nefarious scheme. The Deford couple are about to be presented to Winifred and with the aid of Lady Littleborough, de Villeneuve plans to steal them.

The robbery is consummated and de Villeneuve in his capacity as detective, is engaged to run down the thieves. He intimates that he will be guilty, but Deford refuses to believe him. Dick Fenton, an amateur detective, then enters the field, and suspecting the actress is the victim of a plot, learns of Lady Littleborough's part in the robbery. Fenton disguises himself as de Villeneuve to gain entrance to the quarters of the criminals and learns of a plot to kidnap Winifred. He has many exciting adventures in trying to prevent the kidnapping, finally enlisting the aid of Scotland Yard. Fenton tells them who de Villeneuve really is. The arch criminal has succeeded in getting Winifred in his power and is planning to carry her to a foreign country when Lord Deford, Deford and the police gain entrance to the criminals' stronghold. It is then that the arch criminal drives up with the jewels and is arrested. Realizing that the actress is up, he faces his victims smilingly and takes a puff of a cigarette which kills him instantly. Winifred is released and Deford takes her to his bride.

Recruiting Meeting

A patriotic meeting was held in the Angus Theatre on Tuesday evening in the interests of the 1916 Battalion. The building was well filled, and the several patriotic songs which were well sung by Pts. Howitt and the interesting and pointed address by Pte. Marks were well received and heartily applauded. It was expected that Lieut. Col. Robinson of the 18th would be present and address the meeting, but the weather conditions prevented him from attending.

Pte. Marks commenced his remarks by enjoining the work being done here and elsewhere by the women of the Red Cross Society, and in other ways by alleviating the suffering caused by this war. The soldiers hail them. We want their co-operation. United we stand; divided we fall. We want a united army and a solid body to bring about the success of our cause. The old men, full of enthusiasm, heard their influence. They are doing their best although they cannot go to the fighting line. But others do not see anything in the soldiers' life. They take it easy and never think of the awful suffering in Flanders.

Reflected, said the speaker, on the present condition, and what it means to all. Some have left their homes and loved ones, and business, and a few have been killed. They are fighting in the trenches for our sakes. Many have been to the front and have seen the face of the enemy and the face of the foe. We think of the things that we owe the Empire which has given us our freedom. Think of the atrocities and insults which have been committed in France and Belgium. Britain are doing the part of the Good Samaritan. They are heroes. We must emulate their heroism.

Pte. Marks concluded by appealing to those physically fit, not now wearing King's uniforms, to join the 18th Battalion. The Empire in times past has given you freedom and liberty. It is not time now you were giving same freedom to what you have received.

There are men on the firing line who are bleeding and dying and a war, and they want relief. We need to do is to get a uniform and prepare ourselves to go out and fight for the traditions of the Empire. You could not do a greater honor to mother, wife and family than go out and join the colors. Brate up and do your duty!

Council Proceedings

A special meeting of the council was held Thursday last week with all the members present. It was moved by Gohard-Farnham—that secretary treasurer be instructed to write Mr. T. P. Fenton, informing him that his services as a city scavenger were no longer required, and that James Smart be hereby appointed as his successor.

The matter of tenders for the roof over ground reservoir was taken up and after discussion it was moved by Gohard-Farnham—that the tender for the Cottage Construction Co. of Edmonton for $315.00 (without tax) be accepted. Carried.

J. P. Johnson, Dr. Johnson—that the action of Supt. Watson in purchasing a halving rig in Edmonton, be ratified.

Meeting adjourned.

School Notes

The concert under the auspices of the High School in the Angus Theatre proved a great success, even though the field sports did not come off, and the management are very grateful to those who assisted.

See the beautiful medals on display at the Angus Theatre.
Our High School Poet has broken forth into song:
"To Our Typical High School Girl" She brings our morning letters, She brings our morning milk, She does official uniform Instead of richest silk;
We find her ever smiling, Wherever we may roam, Small wonder that our "Tomnies" Are aching to come home.

That Bottled Up Fleet
There was a little German fleet, It was so very indecent, That one historical disagree, It really ventured out to sea, Now every Hun's relieved to feel The German fleet is safe in Kiel.

Hon. Thos. Johnson Here June 6th

On account of the inability of Hon. Thomas Johnson, minister of public works of the province of Manitoba, to appear here on the date previously announced, owing to important business matters, it was necessary to postpone the meeting until Tuesday evening of next week, June 6. The meeting will be held in the interests of the 223rd Canadian Scandinavian Battalion, and besides Mr. Johnson, and other speakers, an excellent musical program is being arranged. Hon. Johnson was the man who took the first step towards organizing the 223rd Battalion, and his address on Tuesday evening next in Angus Theatre will no doubt be very interesting and educative. Everybody is urged to come out to the meeting. No admission fee.

Women's Relief Corps

The monthly business meeting of the Women's Relief Corps was held in their rooms over the Mercantile Bank, on Wednesday, May 31. At the meeting, the W.R.C. was held to distribute Red Cross boxes in the city and surrounding district. The regular meeting of the Corps will be held in their rooms on Wednesday, of next week from 2.30 to 5 p.m.

The Sewing Committee have plenty of work for those who care to call for it.

ROBERTSON—HOBSON

A pretty wedding took place at the home of Mrs. A. Hobson, 1139a avenue on Wednesday afternoon, when her daughter, Miss M. Hobson, of J. Robertson, of Wetaskiwin, were married.

The bride was gowned in champagne silk, and wore a wreath of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of white roses. She was attended by two flower girls, her little nieces, Miss A. Hobson and Miss L. Marston, who wore white emmentine frocks and carried baskets of marigolds and daisies. The bride's sister, Miss W. Hobson, acted as bridesmaid. She wore a cream crepe suit and carried white roses. The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a black hat.

The bride's mother, who was a black silk dress.

A reception was held at the home of Mrs. A. Hobson, 1139a avenue, on Wednesday afternoon, when the bride and groom were entertained by friends.

W. C. T. U.

The regular monthly meeting of the W.C.T.U. will be held at Knights Studio on Wednesday June 7, at 8 p.m.

This meeting will be in charge of the Fruit, Flower and Delicacy sale. Donations that can be used in the work of this department will be acceptable, such as fruit, plants, children's outgrown clothing, new material or on money. A report of the work done during the year will be given at the meeting.

Everyone is welcome to attend the meetings.

The interest taken generally in the "News From Home" budgets is very gratifying to those who have them in charge. There are still a number of Wetaskiwin boys whose addresses are not yet in. Mrs. Millin will be glad to receive addresses of men in any of the battalions that have gone recently, also any others.

It is with pleasure that we publish an acknowledgment of the "News From Home" from one of the Wetaskiwin boys:

France, May 6, 1916
To the Ladies of the W.C.T.U., Wetaskiwin:
Dear Ladies—Just a line to offer my sincere thanks for the book of clippings that you have sent me from time to time. I appreciate them very much.

It gives me great pleasure to sit down and read a few items from my home town as I am always glad to know how things are getting on.

Several of the other lads around here are from Edmonton and Wetaskiwin wish me to express their thanks to you all, also as I have had a few little books around and which they enjoyed very much, as we do not get many books or papers around here.

I am glad to tell you that I am in the best of health at present and hope to remain so. Wishing you all kind regards and the best of luck and good health.

I remain,
Ela E. Ragan.

Directors of Agricultural Society Meet

A meeting of the directors of the Agricultural Society was held in C. D. Enman's office on Wednesday, May 31, for the purpose of deciding whether or not they should undertake to hold a fair this fall. The directors from the city were of the opinion that it would be hard to collect any money from the business men owing to the financial depression, and therefore were of the opinion that the fair should be cancelled this year. The directors from the rural districts expressed themselves as being in favor of holding the fair as usual and thought that considerable financial support could be obtained from the U.F.A. organizations throughout the district. President Compton and Secretary Enman resigned their offices owing to other business making it impossible to give the fair the attention it deserves. After considerable discussion the meeting was adjourned to Saturday afternoon, June 10, at the City Hall at 3 p.m. when the vacation on the board will be filled, and it will be decided whether a fair will be held this year or not. A full attendance of the directors is urged.

Athletic Meet Postponed

On account of the uncertainty of the weather and the proximity of the Empire Theatre, the athletic meet has been decided to postpone the proposed sports of the Camrose, Ponoka and Wetaskiwin High Schools until about after the opening of the schools in the fall. Everything is in readiness for the meet, and it is regretted by many that the sports day will not be held at the time, but it must be realized that there are other things of greater importance than sports in the life of the high school student.

Warning Re Coal

We wish to call your attention to the advisability of placing your coal orders as early as possible. We are arranging to accept stock orders for shipment to store in June instead of July as heretofore.

We are doing this for the reason that the mines are now experiencing great difficulty in getting sufficient labor to ensure an output sufficient to fill storage requirements in two months.

We consider the situation such that you should fill your bins with every pound of coal that they will hold and you should place your order with your local dealer for part or all of your next winter's requirements. We anticipate the labor situation to become worse at the season progresses. We believe that with an average winter it will be a physical impossibility for the mines to supply the demand. In justice to the trade we want to inform you of the conditions as they are at this time.

As we are warned by the C.P.R. Coal Agencies we think it best to let you know these facts ahead of time.

THURSDAY, JUNE 1, 1916

Our Ottawa Letter

Ottawa, May 25.—Lost the public mind should be excited by the rumors of lawyers, the questioning along many clues, the railings of the court, and the mass of printing detail published by the newspapers, let us go to the main points of the evidence. What has been brought out so far?
First—The Bertram Shell Committee, so far as its manufacturing members were concerned, was simply a quartette of contractors for the British War Office, the members aging Sir Sam Hughes, the Minister of Militia for Canada. This group of contractors had a sum of money placed to its credit by the British government, out of which they paid themselves when they manufactured any war material and paid the contractors to whom they let contracts. In these contracts and sub-contracts for the British government the Canadian people have a definite interest, because when the accounts are adjusted after the war Canada will have to pay the share.

Second—By quoting prices to the British War Office, quotations based on the fact prices of the armament trust during the times of peace, and fixing to those prices long, after general competition by thousands of munition factories had brought the prices down to a more reasonable level, the Bertram Shell Committee accumulated over and above the amount credited to them by the British War Office a "paper profit" of anywhere from $21,000,000 to $4,000, 000, which strangely enough they kept hanging around instead of turning it in to help the British government to finance other transactions in Canada.

Another strange thing about this "paper profit" was that although the Shell Committee was supposed to be contractors for the British government and Sir Sam Hughes as their agent, some one actually made a proposal to hand the surplus over to the Canadian Patriotic Fund. Just here the question arises, What right had they, as contractors for the British government, to hand that surplus over to anybody but the British government?
An equally pertinent question is, What right did they have to accumulate a surplus at all? If they cut it pieces down to the point justified by the increasing competition and cheaper production of war material, they would have been able to show no such swollen surplus. As a matter of fact the Bertram Shell Committee prices were presently edited by Messrs Thomas and Hichens, who were sent over from England by Lloyd George to see about it. After their visit the Committee reorganized and prices took a big drop. Incidentally it was after Messrs Thomas and Hichens' visit that the ultimate destitution of the "paper profit" was decided upon. It goes back to the British War Office where it belongs and Sir Sam's lawyers make a great virtue of handing it over, although the announcement comes somewhat late in the day.

Third—The Bertram Shell Committee, through its imported expert and factotum, Colonel David Carnegie, the man with a tongue hung in the middle, the man with a Kitchener salary, which is, we believe, more money than he ever saw in a lump before in his life—the Bertram Shell Committee, working through Colonel David Carnegie, was highly successful in securing of Colonel Frederic Nichols when he first proposed making loaded shells in Canada. It was not so successful, however, in securing Lloyd Harris and the Russell Motor Company when they wanted to make time fuses. After these Canadian manufacturers had been stung along until they were thoroughly sore, they were given an order for five hundred thousand time fuses at seventy-five cents less per fuse than the American companies, just to make them be good. A note to Cebus, so to speak.
It was in this connection that Mr. Harris was told to "see Allison".
Seeing a man, as every good pocket player knows, costs more money than any other part of the game. It certainly cost the British government a lot of money to see Allison—he kept on raising 'em all the time.

Fourth—Contracts for grazo fuses of $1.00 each were awarded to the American Ammunition Company by the Bertram Shell Committee at a time when the British government, through Morgan & Company, were wandering them to other United States manufacturers at $2.70 each. The British War Office kept calling to the Bertram Shell Committee to go to compete against Morgan by raising the price on him in the United States market, but the Bertram Committee kept right on handing out the soft snap to the American Ammunition company, which was Colonel John Wesley Allison's particular pet. This company got a contract for two and a half million fuses, two-thirds of which were grazo fuses, on which the profit is a large one. The work comparatively easy, whereas the International Arms and Fuse Company, which had behind it the enormously rich American Tobacco Trust, but no Allison connection, got two and a half million time fuses—a much harder job with much smaller profit. This enlightened section of the Bertram Shell Committee in paying four dollars for a fuse for which Morgan was paying $2.70 had the effect of raising the British War Office on the Bertram Shell Committee and stopping the flow of orders to Canada.

Fifth—The transactions of the American Ammunition company was revealed to the Royal Commission by E. H. Cadwell, who is the practical man behind the company and at present an eighty per cent stockholder, and by Benjamin Yoakum, one of its chief promoters. These two men and E. Bassick, another mis-facturer now eliminated from the company, divided among them a commission of one million dollars on an eleven million dollar order for their services in landing the contract. Naturally the commission came first and was the least trouble, so the day after the contract was signed they sat down at the Chateau Laurier and split it three ways.
Cadwell, who intended to make the fuse, was assigned to take 25 percent, a straight $250,000,000, but on that point he was as firm as the rock of Gibraltar. Naturally he wanted the share he claimed. Bas-sick, like other manufacturers, who, by the way, had no intention of any manufacturing, stood out for $275, 000, 200 ft. and shortly thereafter faded away. Benjamin F. Yoakum, Wall Street investor and soldier of fortune, who had secured Canadian honorary colonels to "look after," pulled down $475,000.

These were pretty good profits for men who never lifted a finger to make fuses, but they are said to be a mere trifle beside the profits in manufacturing which allow plenty of room for take-offs in between. So for these margins of profit between the Shell Committee, sub-contractors and the actual cost of production have not been investigated by the Royal Commission. Sir Sam's lawyer, Mr.
Nesbitt, urging that such disclosures would only serve to gratify the Hun and betray our secrets.

Sixth—Benjamin F. Yoakum's $475, 000 was a split within a split. First he handed out $30,000 to Mr. Craven, the British War Office's man who they steeled him up against the Shell Committee. After that Benjamin deducted $5,000 for personal expenses. This left $440,000 which Yoakum proceeded to split two ways—$220,000 for himself and $220,000 for Colonel John Wesley Allison, Col.
John Wesley Allison also had people to take care of. According to Al-lison's instructions, Yoakum paid out of Allison's share $220,000 these amounts—To Eugene Lignault the flute player, $50,000; To Mable G. Edwards, Allison's sister-in-law and secretary, $100,000; To Honora George Washington Stevens of Montreal, $10,000, and $30,000 to Honora-ville, Colonel William Melburn, of Val-cartier camp house. This leaves $25, 000 to be accounted for. It probably remains in the Allison family—the colonel will use it as cigar money.—H.F.G.

JAMES J. HILL IS DEAD

St. Paul, May 29.—James J. Hill, railroad builder, Canadian and widely known figure of the northwest at his Summit avenue residence at 9:30 o'clock this morning as the result of an infection due to bowel trouble.

James J. Hill discovered the bread basket of the world in the great northwest, he led in the development from a wilderness into what is now six wealthy states dotted with 400, 000 farms and he blazed a trail for transportation which reached extremely from Buffalo to Asia, with a total mileage of rail and steamship facilities that would nearly girdle the earth.

Near Guelph, Ontario, where James Jerome Hill was born in 1838, the son of an Irish-Canadian farmer who died when the boy was 15 years old, there stands a tree stump labelled "The last tree chopped by Jas. J.
Hill." It marked the lad's resolution to go to the United States. He had been prompted by an odd incident according to the story that is told, a strange traveller had stopped at the Hill farm for dinner and left his horse at the gate. Young Hill saw the animal was tired, and he carried it a mile of water. The stranger was pleased with the lad's thoughtfulness, and as he drove off he tossed him a newspaper from the United States, and called out gravely:

"Go there, young man. That country needs youngsters like your spirit."

Hill read the paper carefully. It was the next morning that he chopped his last tree.

THE VIKINGS OF CANADA

Although comparatively little has been heard of the 1775 Overseas battalion, popularly known as the Vikings of Canada, it has been making rapid strides, and is now more than half recruited, with all ranks filling up rapidly. The battalion, which has been chosen for its great, the many valued boat of the Vikings, is one of the most interesting now being formed in the United States.

Lieut.-Col. A. G. Foushee has surrounded himself with an efficient staff of officers, and nothing is being left undone in the training of the battalion to make it one of the best of its kind in Canada, while neither has anything been left undone to provide comforts for the men. The

GILLETTE'S LYE

EATS DIRT

Battalion is now housed at the Exhibition grounds, Winnipeg, and a therefore has what is undoubtedly one of the best parade grounds in the city. Particular attention has been given to the culinary department and good food and plenty of it is served at every meal, while the motto "Cleanliness is next to Godliness," is strictly observed. The sleeping quarters are comfortable and clean, and the sanitary conditions have been brought strictly up-to-date.

Particularly rapid progress has been made now in recruiting, for practically all of the men enrolled a few days ago, and are now enrolling to their friends to join, with the result that it is anticipated that it will soon be fully up to strength.

For information in regard to pay and pension to the soldier, his wife and children, or widowed mother, also in regard to free transportation talion, C.E.F., Exhibition Barracks, EDMONTON FAIR, JULY 10 - 15.

Progress is the watchword of the Edmonton Exhibition Association, and the prize list of the exhibition for 1916, which takes place on July 10th to 15th, shows material advancement toward the recognized standard of perfection, and is decidedly up-to-date.

Among the features worthy of special mention is the addition of 11, 000 to the prizes for cattle, as well as a substantial increase in the amount of prize offered for sheep.
The poultry classes are also increased, and special attention has been given to the hog department of the exhibition with a view to encouraging the utility breeds. The total amount offered in cash prizes is approximately $25,000.

Farm products have also secured their quota of consideration. Since the dates of the exhibition come while this year's grain is still in seed, exhibitors are allowed to exhibit last year's grain.

Exhibits in dairy and household products have displayed increased interest from year to year, and these departments have also been revised and brought strictly up-to-date.
The list of attractions shows many splendid features, including Katherine Stinson, who has a phenomenal record for unique and emotional performances in New York, Chicago, Los Angeles and other prominent American cities.

Both from the standpoint of practical interest and entertainment the exhibition of 1916 promises a program which has never been excelled.

After several months' illness from which he knew there was no hope of recovery but which was borne with fortitude and resignation, death on Tuesday morning came to the resident of John Porter, one of Leduc's best settlers and most esteemed citizens. Cancer of the stomach was the cause of death. In 1894 he came to Alberta and homesteaded north of the town where for 22 years the pioneer and his family have resided almost continuously. He was a hard working man. Mr. Porter bought and ran the Leland hotel in town for a year or so.—Leduc Representative.

SHE WAS CURED BY USING

DR. WOOD'S

Norway Pine Syrup.

Mr. Ernest Adams, 616 St. Marie Ost., writes: "My little girl, six years old, had a dreadful hard cough. At night she would cough so hard she would go black in the face, and would cough for several hours before she could stop.
We tried every kind of medicine and had several doctors, but failed to do her any good. She could not sleep nor eat because she was so bad, and she was simply wasting away. A friend advised me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I got a bottle and gave an improvement and got better. Now I am only too glad to recommend it to all mothers."

Too much stress cannot be laid on the fact that a cough or cold should be cured immediately.
Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup will cure the cough or cold and prove a preventative from all throat and lung troubles such as bronchitis, pneumonia and consumption.

"Dr. Wood's" is put up in a yellow wrapper; three nine times the trade mark; price 25c and 50c, per bottle.

for Grades VIII, IX, X, XI and XII, will be held this year on June 19th, 20th, 21st, 22nd, 23rd, 24th, 25th, duc, Munson, Ponoka, Selkirk, Stettler, Tobelf, Vegreville, Viking,

The examinations in the five grades will be conducted at the same ing examiners. The department will supply the required foolscap, drawing paper and ink, also squared paper for the Analytical Geometry but candidates are advised to provide themselves with rulers, compasses, pencilholders, etc. Candidates writing on the examinations in drawing should provide themselves with soft eraser, a good drawing pencil, and, if possible, India ink, water color and suitable brush or brushes. For the work in water color a supply of water and conveniences for cleaning the brushes should be available.

Candidates who have not already selected one of the above centres should advise the department at once at which centre they desire to write.

A SLIGHT MISTAKE

There is a joke told here at the expense of a modest, young newspaper man in a neighboring town which is so good it ought to be true. The young man in question, it appears, was recently invited to a party at a residence where the home had recently been blessed with an addition to the family. Accompanied by his best girl he met his kind hostess at the door, and, after the customary salutations, asked after the welfare of the baby. The lady was suffering from a severe cold, which made her slightly deaf, and she mistakenly supposed the young man was enquiring about her child. She replied that, though she usually had one every winter, this was the worst she had ever had; it had kept her awake at night a great deal at first and confused her to her bed. Then, pointing to the scribbles getting pale and nervous, she said she could see by his looks that he was going to be just like her, and asked him if he wished to lie down. The paper came out as usual the next week, but the editor has given up enquiring about babies.

TO KILL FLIES IN HOUSES

Mix two tablespoonfuls of 40 per cent formalin with one pint of equal parts of milk and water. This mixture should be exposed in shallow plates, with a piece of bread placed in the centre on which the flies al-light and feed.
By an early and active campaign of fly destruction, great inroads may be made upon the pest, and many a valuable lives may be saved.

HERE'S A SECRET

If you want to cure that skin disease of yours, you can only do so by using an ointment of penetrating to the root of the disease. Zam-Buk is capable of doing this, whereas ordinary ointments remain on the surface skin.

Besides its wonderful power of penetration, Zam-Buk is such a strong germicide that germs cannot live where Zam-Buk is applied.
Thus, all germs, both on the surface and in the underlying tissues, are destroyed. Then the herbal essences, of which Zam-Buk is composed, promote the growth of new tissue, and a complete and permanent cure is the result.

Prove it for yourself. All druggists, 50c. box, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.

SUMMER TOURS TO THE PACIFIC

For those who are contemplating a trip to the Pacific Coast during the present summer the Canadian Northern Railway in connection with their new line to Vancouver have made an interesting announcement of very low fares for return trips to Vancouver, Victoria, Seattle, Portland, San Francisco, Los Angeles and many other points on the coast with a varied choice of routes which in many cases will permit of return journey being made via diverse routes.

The new Canadian Northern route to the Pacific coast passes through an entirely new section of the Canadian Rockies and is replete with magnificent scenery and points of historical interest hitherto unavailable to the traveler crossing the Rockies. From Edmonton west the new road passes through a beautiful mixed forest country with many prairie lakes and rivers, entering the Rockies at Jasper Park, 250 miles west of Edmonton. At this point travelers are in sight of Fiddlers Creek Range, with Pyramid Mountain 902 feet high, a landmark of the traders of the North West Company and the line then follows the Athabasca River and along the north side of the Blue Lake, where David Thompson, the explorer, spent part of the winter of 1810, and is the site of a very old trading post, run by what was known as "The Free Traders" who took the opportunity afforded by the fights between the North West Trading Co. and the Hudson's Bay Company to catch the Indians coming in with their rich catches of fur. From this point we get into a section of the Park where Mountain Sheep and a Mountain Goat are very plentiful and these can usually be seen on the hills to the west of the trail to the railway. The next point of interest is Jasper Mountain, 9486 feet high, with its snow capped peak which overlooks the town of Jasper. This latter town is the headquarters of the Dominion government officials who have the supervision of Jasper Park, a game preserve and forest reservation of four thousand square miles. From this point onward the traveler has in view continuously the most wonderful mountain peaks, including the Maligne Mountains, the Colin Range, Mount Cavell, over 11,000 feet high. Mount Hardisty, Mount Gendron, Mount Robson 12,087 feet high, the highest peak in the Canadian Rockies, and many others, with wonderful glacial effects, at the best of which are usually found beautiful lakes with waters of very vivid coloring. The highest point in the Rockies is reached by the railway near Mount Robson, at 2,712 feet above sea level, which is the lowest of any line crossing the Rockies on the continent. It will be readily seen how low the altitude of this crossing of the height of land when it is taken into consideration that it is only 1,000 feet higher than the City of Calgary. One of the marvelous features of the new line through the mountains is that it has practically no grades, that it follows wide valleys, which have tended to reduce curves and allow the constructors to put down a railroad which has been referred to as the best new railroad ever constructed.

From the scenic point of view and from the point of comfort in travel the intending traveler to the Pacific Coast this summer would certainly do well to try this new road and refresh his mind with the new wonders of the Canadian Rockies which never cease to provide new wonders for one to marvel at.

Now, girls, if you want to make some fellow split the kindling wood, look out the clock and throw out the old, this is your last time you'll have a chance will be in 1923, and then you'll be more than sweet sixteen—although you'll not really adult it—Vegreville Observer.

A kiss is a peculiar proposition. It is of no use to one, yet absolute bliss for two. The small boy gets it for nothing, the young man has to steal it, and the old man has to buy it. It is the baby's right, the lover's privilege, the hypocrite's mask. To young women it is fatal, to a married woman hope, and to an old maid, charity.—Ex.

SALVATION ARMY

It will come as a surprise to the many friends of Capt. and Mrs. Thompson of the Salvation Army to learn that they are about to leave the city, having received word to farewell here and leave for another field of labor. They will be succeeded by Capt. Gray, who will arrive some time next week. A farewell meeting and a social will be held next week (full particulars of which will be announced) on Sunday, the object of which is to raise sufficient money to meet certain liabilities incurred during the time Capt. Thompson has been in charge of the Corps here. The very best wishes of Capt. and Mrs. Thompson's many friends go with them wherever they may be located to continue their labors.

MANTOBA IS NOW ALL DRY

Winnipeg, May 31.—Mantoba today cast from its shoulders forever the yoke of the licensed saloon, and tomorrow the new prohibition legislation comes into effect. There was little or no celebration in the city tonight as the 16 half closed their doors, and the police report that there was less drunkenness even than on any ordinary night.

About 500 hangers-on were thrown out of work, but many of these have planned to go to wet territory in the states.

Already several hotels in the city have gone dry of business, while others are converting their bars into light lunch rooms.

Approximately 374 licensed bars, outside of Winnipeg, went out of existence tonight with the introduction of the Macdonald Act.

Stephen's Pure Paint

Made with Manitoba Linseed Oil

Makes the home beautiful to look at, comfortable to live in, and easy to sell

Why Is Stephen's Paint the Best?

OVER THIRTY YEARS' experience in the paint trade of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta and British Columbia has taught many lessons as to what kind of paints are needed in this country, and heeding these lessons, G. F. Stephens & Co. have been enabled each year to improve their products. Purchasing as they do their pigments in the best markets in the world and combining them with Manitoba Linseed Oil, using the latest and most up-to-date mills and mixers, they are enabled to turn out a class of paint that cannot be equaled by any house in Canada. For this reason it has fairly won the name of being the best paint sold in the West. Its sales are a practical evidence of its excellence, having increased nearly ten times in the past ten years.

Stephen's Paint covers 350 square ft. two coats. Price per gallon $3.40; 1-2 gal., $1.75; qts., 90c; pts., 50c; 1-2 pts., 25c
